AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE RE: SECURITY

In the past period of time three locks have been removed and have disappeared from the gate that leads to Hills 2 & 3, causing the gate to be left open. It has also been reported by some of the Naivelters arriving late at night that the main gate to the park has been unlocked and left open as well. These gates are closed and secured with locks for the safety of all Naivelters. Your cooperation in keeping the gates to Hills 2 & 3 locked at all times and the main gate to Eldorado Park locked at night will be greatly appreciated by all members of our community.

Welcome to Dvoira & Zachary, Anna Yanovsky's daughter & grandson who are visiting from Vernon, B.C. Great to have them back at Naivelt!

THIS WEEK AT BAGEL BRUNCH:

Dr. Philip Berger is the chief of family and community medicine at St. Michael's Hospital and one of the organizers of Canadian Doctors for Refugee Care. He is well known in the Toronto community for his work on behalf of the most vulnerable in our society including refugees and those with AIDS. Physicians across the country have actively campaigned against the changes to the Interim Federal Health Program. "I've never seen anything like this, in over 40 years since I entered medical school ... where enough physicians are united across the country that they'll take direct action and have endorsement of their positions, their views, from all the leading medical associations of the country," says Dr. Berger. "This is a classic example of what doctors should be doing."

Sunday at 10AM in the Lasowsky Centre. Please remember to bring your own plates, cups, cutlery, and napkins.

BELOW: Last week's bagel brunch.

A note on Saturday's outdoor games:

Thanks to Evan and Mary Castel, who have polled the community and determined that a number of the children are not available this weekend, the Games will be rescheduled to a later date.

Homemade air conditioning (hat-tip to Anna): Get a long towel (or a pillow case), dip it in ice water, wring it out, then wrap it around your neck. In no time at all you will chill out, especially if you sit in front of a fan.

RECAPS

Artists, musicians, quilters, cooks, travellers, photographers, gardeners, entrepreneurs - Camp Naivelt has them all. Many thanks to the folks who shared their passions - it made for a very delightful afternoon.

ABOVE: Katrina explaining her quilting to Simon at the Parade of Passion.

Bravo el profesor Sean, for another successful Spanish Camp. Sean's style of teaching always leads to much laughter, making learning a great pleasure. For example, while we students struggle to describe (in our fumbling Spanish) photographs that he provides, the story behind the picture that he tells to complete the lesson is always far more hilarious. Gracias por la experiencia agradable, señor.

ABOVE: El profesor Sean Gacich, with some of the students: Gord Meslin, Robin Vogl, Teresa Blotner, Wagner Paredes.

RECAPS, CONTINUED

Last Saturday night, many Naivelters came out to learn how to dance salsa. Some folks were keen and excited to try, while others were shy and reluctant. Some even said that they will come but not dance. In the end everyone, young and old, was on the dance floor learning some new moves. No one could resist the rhythmic Latin tunes and the enthusiasm of our great teacher Miko. He was able to teach the basic steps of salsa and cha cha cha in a very accessible and, most importantly, fun way. The night was definitely hot, in more ways than one!

If anyone wants to keep dancing, Miko teaches every Sunday morning at Lula Lounge.

NEXT WEEK: A PREVIEW

Next Saturday, Dawn Renfrew from the Credit Valley Conservation Authority will make a presentation on their findings from the bat monitoring conducted at Camp the week of July 9th. Come out to learn about these fascinating little critters and their impact on our environment. We will also talk about the possibility of having a bat house building workshop (thank you, Lev Jaeger) later this summer in preparation for next season. Christine Cushing will host the talk at Hill 1 - Cabin 23, and provide a light breakfast (bring your own coffee/tea mug). Dawn has also offered to conduct a small walk and talk afterwards for those who are interested in learning more about some of the natural habitat we have at Camp.

IMPORTANT CONTACTS

MAINTENANCE ISSUES: Please note that cabin owners are responsible for their own cabin maintenance, so maintenance issues pertain to common areas, including water lines to your cabin.

Call Barbara Blaser who will contact Sol Blaser:
