

Naivelt ניוועלט News

Friday, July 16, 2010 Issue #3

Kinder Kapers Weekend

Food for Thought

An Editorial Piece

Everyone who came out to last Sunday's Bagel Brunch was treated to a fascinating explanation of our existing food systems by Charles Levkoe (pictured left), while also looking at the new social movements (of organic and local food) that create further separations between already existing socio-economic divides. It was clear afterwards that everyone had started thinking about what possible actions people could take not only in their personal lives, but also collectively at Camp Naivelt.

Here at Camp Naivelt, we have land with rich soil. I began to explore possible ideas of projects we could take on as a community, whether it be building a greenhouse, or a chicken coop, something that we could mutually benefit from, thus lowering our reliance on our local behemoth supermarkets.

I know well enough that these ideas have

(continued on page 2)

This Week

Saturday, July 17

Aquafit with Barb

1 PM at the Pool - $2 adults, $1 teens. Noodles available at pool.

Bagel Making - Learn the art of traditional bagel making from Sarit and Alan Cantor. 1:00 to 4:30 PM in the Lac Shack

The Phonebooth Criminals - 8 PM
Lac Shack - Psych Rock/ Blues - featuring Naivelt's own, Zack Harrison

Snack Bar will be open

Sunday, July 18

Bagel Brunch

10AM (coffee at 9:45AM) Hill 2, #29 A discussion about the G20 and its aftermath.

Host: Ester Reiter

Please bring your own cup and chair.

Aquafit with Barb

1 PM at the Pool

(food for thought contd. from page 1)

been flirted with in the past, and little or nothing came of them. Questions are raised: Who will take care of these ventures? How exactly will it work? I began to think outside of the box, for surely there must be some way we can promote local agriculture at a cost that we can all afford.

I realized the possibilities that lay around Naivelt (though ever-shrinking). As many local Brampton farms continue to cave to pressure to sell to big-shot developers, we part-time locals who will surely feel the hurt of this suburbia continually creeping up on us, should embrace the local farmer, and create relationships with them.

By mutually supporting a local farmer(s) who grows a variety of crops, we could have fresh local produce for the whole season. It could be used as an educational setting as well, where everyone could learn about growing food. It could also be a good possible volunteering experience for the youth. With this partnership, both the farmer and Naivelt would prosper.

I realize this idea still has many flaws and questions to be asked of it, but I have no intentions of forcing this idea upon people, rather I want everyone to think of other possible initiatives we could take, and send them for publishing in the Naivelt News and start a forum for which this conversation can take place.

-Ezra Lipton

Desperately Seeking China

I am currently working on a mosaic project and would appreciate any donations of chipped / broken china, ceramics, and/or coloured glass.

Give that ol' crock a last life as an artifact.

Please, no white china or clear glass. Donations can be left on my porch, Hill 3 #35.

-Sybil Goldstein

Important Information

These are the closest hospitals that have emergency departments.
Peel Memorial Hospital is closed and under renovation.

To Credit Valley Hospital

Erin Mills Parkway and Eglinton in Mississauga

At Steeles, turn left and turn left again on Mississauga Rd.

Take Mississauga road south and stay towards the right at Argentia (south of the 401) and turn onto Erin Mills Parkway.

Continue driving south for about 10 minutes and CVH will be on your left as you pass Erin Mills Town Centre and Eglinton Avenue West.

To Brampton Civic Hospital

Bovaird Dr. and Bramalea in Brampton

Turn right on Queen St. and take a left at Chingacousy (Mavis). Turn right on Bovaird and keep going east until Bramalea.

For Further Food Reading

Some great introductory books:

- Raj Patel's Stuffed and Starved (2008)
- Wayne Roberts' No-Nonsense Guide to World food (2008)
- Brewster Kneen's From Land to Mouth available on-line at: <http://www.ramshorn.ca/node/170> (1989)
- The Edible City: Toronto's Food From Farm to Fork edited by Christina Palassio and Alana Wilcox

Some informational Web Sites:

- The Toronto Food Strategy (<http://wx.toronto.ca/inter/health/food.nsf>)
- Sustain Ontario: The Alliance for Healthy Food and Farming (<http://sustainontario.com/>)
- Peoples' Food Policy Project (<http://peoplesfoodpolicy.ca/>)
- Bits and Bytes: Community Food Security Resources - (www.bitsandbytes.ca)
- The Jew and the Carrot (<http://jcarrot.org/>)

Some organizations to help find food produced in a more socially just, ecologically sustainable, and healthy way in Toronto:

- The Good Food Box (<http://www.foodshare.net/goodfoodbox01.htm>)
- Community Shared Agriculture (<http://csafarms.ca/index.html>)
- Toronto Farmers' Markets (http://tfmn.ca/?page\_id=2)
- Toronto Community Garden Network (tcgn.net)
- Local Food Plus Certification (www.localfoodplus.ca)

Say Hello To...

Welcome to Mary Daniel, who is staying for most of the summer on Hill 2, Cottage 24, Lois & Rachel and Sadie's cottage.

Simone Pflug has a guest staying with her whose name is Anna Kapask. Simone is in Cottage 30 on Hill 3 and the daughter of Esther Pflug.

Congratulations!

Sandy and Ron Traub are thrilled to welcome a new granddaughter! Orielle Margot was born on Monday, July 12, to their daughter Samantha and partner Dave Koffman. Big sister Stevie and all the Fine Family is overjoyed to add another female to the clan!

-Marsha Fine

Big Items Disposal

Certain large items such as stoves, water tanks, BBQs, etc have been dumped on the road opposite camp and haphazardly in the Hill 1 parking lot.

All items for Brampton pickup should not be on the road until Tuesday evenings. If you plan to leave items before that time, then they should be neatly placed just inside the driveway near the road.

Also, the town has to be notified for certain large appliances such as refrigerators. You can expect a small fee payable with a credit card when you call. PLEASE remember that there is no one employed to place items on the road for you and they should certainly not be dumped on Hill 1.

Next Week

Saturday, July 24

Aquafit with Barb: 1 PM

Ladies Auxiliary, Book Club 3 PM A
Confederacy of Dunces by John Kennedy Toole. Host: Barbara Blaser, Cabin #23, Hill 3

Spoken Word with Jonathan Lynn
Dramatically performs recitations, comedy and nostalgia all through verse and original monologues.

Sunday, July 25

Bagel Brunch: 10 AM Katrina Kilroy and Nicole Bennett – Midwifery as a Movement for Social Change. Hosts: Leah Houston and Michael Burt - Cabin #32, Hill 2

Aquafit with Barb: 1 PM

The Picture of the Week

Credit Sunset

Photo courtesy of Guy Staughton

Your Naivelt News Editors are back!

Hilarie Klapman and Ezra Lipton

Deadline for submissions : Tuesday Noon!

Welcoming photos, artwork, haikus and more!

naiveltnews10@gmail.com or drop off at Hill 3 #9